Special features

Simple coin roll dispensers are a standard installation in any modern, open banking environment today. They offer a customer valued service by making coin roll available 24hrs a day. In most cases, a fee is charged for such a service. Analysis of daily transactions within a modern bank branch has shown that there is not only a high demand for coin rolls but also a very high demand for changing banknotes into other denominations. Normally 2 denominations are mainly asked for in Europe. For a bankbranch employee to handle all of these transactions is totally unproductive, as it prevents them from performing other more important, profit generating duties. Added to this, is the ever increasing difficulty in recognising counterfeits, especially as the branch employees handle less and less banknotes and the counterfeit quality is always getting better.

So the Diabolo 4600 allows a bankbranch to achieve all of the above in a simple manner, as it not only sells coin rolls but also changes banknotes and constantly checks for counterfeits (in Europe Art.6 ECB does not apply for simple change machines, which are therefore based on reduced complexity and lower technology banknote acceptors)^.

The Diabolo offers the following functionality:

- Change banknotes into coin rolls
- Change banknotes into coins
- Change coins into coin rolls
- Change coins into coins
- Change banknotes into banknotes
- Change coins into banknotes
